

Assess, Inspire, Ignite!

The Role of Assessment Data in Talent Management & Employee Engagement

Juice Inc. and Predictive Success invite you to Assess, Inspire, Ignite!, a three-hour roundtable specifically designed for leaders in the healthcare industry who want to maximize the potential of organizational data to manage talent and engage employees.

This exclusive event will feature Franca Hoda, Director, Leadership Development Institute, Ontario Hospital Association (OHA), Michael Ebaugh, Director, Corporate Training & Development, Botsford Hospital and Brady Wilson of Juice Inc.

- Franca Hoda joined the OHA as the Director, Leadership Development Institute in 2008 and has recently assumed responsibility for the Provincial Health Human Resources Strategy. Since 1989, she has held the senior human resources positions in a number of hospitals with responsibilities in areas such as recruitment and selection, compensation and benefits, employee and labour relations, occupational health and safety, organizational development and quality of work life.

A current focus within the health care industry is an increasing need for leadership within organizations, and specifically a framework to manage talent. In this session, Franca will introduce the Leadership Institute and discuss the need for a Talent Management Framework along with the critical success factors for talent management and the role of the CEO in this process.

- Michael Ebaugh is a passionate speaker who has trained more than 15,000 people in a wide variety of leadership and personal growth topics. He will bring a sense of fun to his presentation by combining a dose of psychological insight, with practical insights on how to help people engage in their learning and apply new connections. Michael will discuss the critical nature of self-awareness in leadership, and he will describe how his organization has used the Predictive Index as a tool to promote self-awareness, and the Juice Check as a path to facilitate individual and group awareness.
- Brady Wilson will facilitate this Roundtable event. He will also discuss the Five Drivers of Engagement and how they can be measured to boost energy levels at work, especially in an environment where uncertainty and change attempt to rob employees of their focus and weaken
